FOURTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME | JULY 9, 2017
DECIMOCUARTO DOMINGO DEL TIEMPO ORDINARIO | 9 DE JULIO DE 2017

"Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest."— Matthew 11:28

"Vengan a mí, todos los que están fatigados y agobiados por la carga, y yo los aliviaré".— Mateo 11:28

A HUMBLE KING

Like a tonal center in music, the note to which we keep returning in today's readings is humility. We wait in joyful expectation for the coming of our Lord as King. But what we are told to expect and rejoice over is a meek and humble king, riding on an ass. Not horses or chariots of the great and mighty, but a humble beast carries the Ruler whose dominion stretches "from the River to the ends of the earth" (Zechariah 9:10). This King comes to banish the tools of the warrior and bring peace. No wonder that a weary world rejoices and gives thanks to God!

TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading — Rejoice heartily, O Jerusalem! For see, your savior comes (Zechariah 9:9-10).

Psalm — I will praise your name forever, my king and my God (Psalm 145).

Second Reading — the one who raised Christ from death will give life to your mortal bodies also (Romans 8:9, 11-13).

Gospel — Come, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest (Matthew 11:25-30).

UN REY HUMILDE

Como el centro tonal en música, la nota que sigue retornando en las lecturas de hoy es la humildad. Esperamos con gozosa expectativa la venida de nuestro Señor como Rey. Pero se nos dice que esperemos y no regocijemos en este manso y humilde rey, montado en un burrito. No en el caballo o el carruaje de los grandes y poderosos, sino en una humilde bestia que carga al Rey cuyo dominio se extiende "desde el gran río hasta los últimos rincones de la tierra" (Zacarías 9:10). Este Rey viene a desterrar las armas del guerrero y a traer la paz. ¡No es de extrañar que un mundo abatido se regocije y de gracias a Dios!

LECTURAS DE HOY

Primera Lectura—Nuestro Salvador es un pacificador que reina hasta los confines de la tierra (Zacarías 9:9-10).

Salmo— Siempre bendeciré tu nombre, mi rey y mi Dios (Salmo 145 [144])

Segunda Lectura— Si por el Espíritu matan las obras de la carne, vivirán en El Espíritu de Dios (Romanos 8:9, 11-13).

Evangelio—Vengan a mí los que se sientan cargados y agobiados, porque yo los aliviare (Mateo 11:25-30).

Read anything from Romans lately? Thanks to the Sunday Mass readings, this summer will take us through Saint Paul's major letter all the way through to mid-September.

We're already three weeks into Romans (we would have had an additional two weeks prior if the Tenth and Eleventh Sundays weren't bumped by solemnities), and it's easy to spot a theme that's showed up in these three passages.

Death.

And for Paul, it's a good thing.

Writing as someone completely reoriented by the message of Jesus, Saint Paul has allowed to happen something that could benefit each of us: he's allowed the perspective of heaven to filter into how we assess things while still on the ground.

You and I naturally shy away from things that feel harmful, like an athlete might shy away from 5:00am workouts at the beginning of training. But as with Paul we begin to let reality, and results, cut through the fog of our day-to-day existence, our Christian life can come to be defined by values completely different from what we once knew.

For us humans, death is disastrous, the one thing to avoid at all costs, because with it we're done.

For the Holy Spirit, Saint Paul shows us, death is dynamic, because it introduces the portal that brings the power of Jesus into our lives. Jesus as a human showed us this pathway by dying himself, and revealing to us the power of the resurrection. You and I can now be united with him in his death, and through that, in the power of his resurrection.

You and I are invited to experience freedom and power, and in Romans Saint Paul shows us this life will come by dying. For the Christian, we don't wait till the end of our life to die, we can begin to die today: and so begin to live today. In the Spirit, God will show you something you can die to, some resentment, some craving, some imposition on others, and as you allow the Spirit to free you from that fetter, that dying will introduce freedom.

¿Has leído Romanos últimamente? Gracias a las lecturas de la misa del domingo, este verano nos llevará a través de la carta principal de San Pablo hasta mediados de septiembre.

Ya tenemos tres semanas en Romanos (habríamos tenido otras dos semanas antes si los décimos y undécimo domingos no hubiesen sido de solemnidad), y es fácil detectar un tema que aparece en estos tres pasajes.

Muerte.

Y para San Pablo, es algo bueno.

Escribiendo como alguien completamente reorientado por el mensaje de Jesús, San Pablo ha permitido que suceda algo que podría beneficiar a cada uno de nosotros: ha permitido que la perspectiva del cielo se filtre en cómo evaluamos las cosas mientras todavía estamos en la tierra.

Tú y yo naturalmente nos alejamos de las cosas que se sienten dañinas, como un atleta podría alejarse de los entrenamientos de las 5:00 de la mañana. Pero que Pablo, permitimos que la realidad, traspase nuestra vida cotidiana, dejando así que nuestra vida cristiana llegue a ser definida por valores completamente diferentes de lo que una vez conocimos.

Para nosotros los seres humanos, la muerte es desastrosa, lo único que queremos evitar a toda costa, porque con ella estamos acabados.

Para el Espíritu Santo, San Pablo nos muestra que la muerte es dinámica, porque introduce el portal que trae el poder de Jesús a nuestras vidas. Jesús como humano nos mostró este camino muriendo, y revelándonos el poder de la resurrección. Usted y yo ahora podemos estar unidos con él en su muerte, y por eso, en el poder de su resurrección.

Usted y yo somos invitados a experimentar la libertad y el poder, y en Romanos San Pablo nos muestra que esta vida vendrá solo muriendo. Para nosotros los cristianos, no tenemos que esperar hasta el final de nuestra vida para morir, si no que podemos comenzar a morir hoy: y así comenzar a vivir hoy. En el Espíritu, Dios le mostrará algo a lo que puede morir, algo como resentimiento, antojo, imposición sobre los demás, y al permitir que el Espíritu le libere de esa herida, ese morir introducirá la libertad.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

The premier poet of the English language, Geoffrey Chaucer, introduced one of his most beloved characters, the "Wife of Bath," by this telling remark: "Husbands at church door she had five." Four times widowed, she was setting off on a pilgrimage, notably without number five. The church door is a curious detail, pointing to the fourteenth-century wedding custom of marrying on the porch of the parish church. The goal was to give maximum publicity to the consent of the groom and bride, and so consent was moved from the bride's home to a public venue. The priest would stand in the doorway and begin by sprinkling the couple with holy water. He needed to make sure they weren't too closely related and give them some instruction. He would direct the groom to pay the bride's family a dowry, and then announce the monetary amounts to the interested passersby. Only then would the guests enter the church for the wedding Mass, during which the bride and groom would hold lighted candles. The gradual move from home to church and the shift from the bride's father to the priest's authority helped to protect the freedom of brides who weren't quite as confident as the Wife of Bath.

TRADICIONES DE NUESTRA FE

En el año 2001, Carlos Manuel Rodriguez Santiago se convirtió en el primer laico caribeño beatificado por la Iglesia. Su vida fue un ejemplar en la caridad y en el amor a la liturgia, pues promovió la participación de los fieles de una manera activa, mucho antes de que el Concilio Vaticano II así lo pidieran. En 1963 una colitis rectal muy severa lo llevó a los brazos de Cristo resucitado, a la edad de 44 años.

Carlitos, como muchos lo llaman, trabajó en la Universidad de Puerto Rico y fundó un grupo apostólico laical en el Centro Católico de dicha universidad. Allí pudo obrar por el desarrollo de humanismo cristiano, la participación activa de los laicos en la liturgia de la Iglesia y por la renovación de la Vigilia Pascual. Solía decir que los cristianos “vivimos para esa noche” como cumbre y centro de nuestra fe.

Carlitos es modelo para los laicos comprometidos con su fe. Él insistía no solo en una participación activa en la pastoral de la Iglesia, sino también en la liturgia de la Iglesia en una época donde la Misa todavía se consideraba obra exclusiva de los sacerdotes.
