The Pastor's Corner

It is difficult to imagine the heartbreak felt when the first human died: Abel, child of Adam and Eve, was killed suddenly by his own brother, who then fled. As our first parents grieved the loss of both their sons, they saw the full consequence of a tree in a garden and fruit that should have been uneaten.

After that first death came many others, one after another, with Adam and Eve themselves passing away, and then almost all of humanity in the great flood of Noah. Sheol, the realm of the dead, became home to more inhabitants than the earth, land of the living.

Death still claims each of us today, being the one certain thing in this world. Almost everything else is uncertain, but that we will die remains an unbroken chain drawing back to the beginning. All our hopes and dreams, goals and aspirations, are confined under the shadow cast by death.

Easter Sunday brings us to a tomb, with the burial cloths that shrouded our brother when he also descended into hell. Jesus came announcing a new kingdom, but in the end he also was claimed by death. But he identified death as something distinct, as something he was intentionally journeying toward as the will of his Father. And with his accepting, willingly choosing death, he also introduced something unknown. Venturing into the realm of Satan, he announced triumph: Adam, Eve, and their descendants, were all free to leave hell for a life that could not be destroyed.

You and I know the bitter aftertaste of the fruit from Eden. Today, Easter Sunday, we can eat and drink of the new banquet: Christ giving himself for the life of the world, his Body and Blood allowing us to walk through the gates of death to the fullness of life. "Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day."

El Rincón Del Pastor

Es difícil imaginar la angustia que se sentio cuando el primer humano murió: Abel, el hijo de Adán y Eva, murió repentinamente asesinado por su propio hermano, quien luego huyo. Mientras que nuestros primeros padres lloraron la pérdida de ambos hijos, miraron también la consecuencia total causada por el árbol del jardín y de la fruta que nunca debió ser comida.

Después de esa primera muerte vinieron muchas más, una tras otra, incluyendo la misma muerte de Adán y Eva y después casi toda la humanidad en el gran diluvio de Noe. Sheol, el Reino de los muertos, se convirtió en hogar de más habitantes que en la tierra.

La muerte aun nos aclama a todos nosotros el día de hoy, siendo esto una de las cosas más certeras de este mundo. Casi todo lo demás es incierto, pero el hecho de que algún día moriremos sigue siendo una cadena ininterrumpida que nos lleva hacia el principio. Nuestras esperanzas y sueños, metas y aspiraciones, se limitan bajo la sombra de la muerte.

El domingo de Pascua nos lleva a una tumba, con las vestiduras del entierro que cubrió a nuestro hermano cuando también el descendió a los infiernos. Jesús vino anunciando un nuevo reino, pero al final él también fue reclamado por la muerte. Pero él identificó la muerte como algo distinto, como algo que a lo que el intencionalmente fue avanzando para cumplir la voluntad de su padre. Y con su aceptación, voluntariamente eligiendo la muerte, también introdujo algo desconocido. Al emprender en el Reino de Satanás, Jesús anunció el triunfo: Adán, Eva y sus descendientes, fueron todos libres de dejar el infierno para tener una vida que no podría ser destruida.

Usted y yo conocemos el sabor amargo del fruto del Edén. Hoy, Domingo de Pascua, podemos comer y beber del banquete nuevo: Al dar su cuerpo y sangre para la vida del mundo, Cristo nos permite caminar a través de las puertas de la muerte a la plenitud de la vida. "Quien come mi carne y bebe mi sangre tendrá vida eterna y le resucitaré en el último día".

Catechesis of the Good Shepherd In the Atrium

This week in the atrium the children have been visiting the places and events of Jesus' last days before His death. Using a three-dimensional model, we have traced His steps from the Last Supper in the upper room to his arrest at the Garden of Olives. We have followed Him from Pontius Pilate at the Praetorium to Calvary. We have contemplated His death on the cross, being laid in the tomb, and His glorious resurrection. In this way we are able to prayerfully contemplate the Paschal Mystery as a historical reality and the greatest mystery of love.

If you would like to learn more about Catechesis of the Good Shepherd at St. Isidore, please contact Michelle Knox at mknox@stisidore-yubacity.org. We have need of catechists and atrium assistants. A new formation course begins in June!

Catequesis del Buen Pastor en el Atrio

esta semana en el atrio los niños han estado visitando los lugares y acontecimientos de últimos días de Jesús antes de su muerte. Usando un modelo tridimensional, hemos trazado sus pasos desde la última cena en el aposento a su arresto en el Huerto de los Olivos. Le hemos seguido de Poncio Pilato en el pretorio al Calvario. Hemos contemplado su muerte en la Cruz, su reposo en la tumba y su gloriosa resurrección. De esta manera podemos contemplar devotamente el Misterio Pascual como una realidad histórica y el misterio más grande de amor.

Si desea más información sobre el Catequesis del Buen Pastor en San Isidro, póngase en contacto con Michelle Knox en mknox@stisidore-yubacity.org. Tenemos necesidad de catequistas y ayudantes de atrio. ¡Un nuevo curso de formación comienza en junio!

with lit votive candles on their backs over 340 years ago. Made of iron-wood, which does not float, her arrival by way of the sea was a miracle of itself. It is told that the statue was in by a fisherman who presented her to his parish priest, who in turn presented it to the Spanish Governor. Legion relates that the fisherman drew near to the statue repeatedly but it drifted away. It was until he was fully clothed himself that the floating statue could be approached and touched. Our Lady was housed in a Merizo proa shed or Camarin (Kamalen is the Spanish-Chamoru word for the long narrow thatched structures that served as soldiers' barracks) until she could be moved the Dulce Nombre de Maria Church in Agana, Guam, where it sits in a perch above the church's altar; now the Basilica. Her feast day is celebrated on December 8th.

HAPPY EASTER!

Happy Easter! Or as most other languages prefer: Blessed Pasch—Passover! Pasqua, Pascua, Páscoa, Pâques! Israel's Passover through the Red Sea to the Promised Land! Jesus' Passover through the Cross to resurrection! Our catechumens' Passover last night, and ours once upon a time, through Baptism's waters to our family's Eucharist! Welcome, everybody! As someone once said of the Catholic Church, "Here comes everybody!" So in this Jubilee of Mercy, we make our own Saint John Chrysostom's Easter welcome from fourteen hundred years ago: "Let everyone enjoy this radiant feast! You who fasted from Lent's beginning, and you who didn't fast at all, rejoice! The table's richly set! Come, take from it, everybody, no worries, no embarrassment! All of you, taste the banquet of faith! Enjoy the feast of forgiveness! Let no one grieve for having sinned again and again: pardon has risen from the tomb!" Happy Easter! Blessed Pasch! Welcome, everybody!

¡Feliz Pascua! La Pascua de Israel a través del Mar Rojo a la Tierra Prometida! La Pascua de Jesús a través de la cruz a la resurrección. La Pascua de nuestros catecúmenos anoche, y la nuestra una vez más, a través de las aguas de nuestro bautizo a nuestra familia eucarística. ¡Bienvenidos todos! Como alguien dijo una vez acerca de la Iglesia católica: "¡aquí vienen todos!" Así que en este jubileo de misericordia, hacemos nuestra propia Pascua de san Juan Crisóstomo desde hace cuatrocientos años "¡Permitan que todos se alegren en esta fiesta radiante! Ustedes que ayunaron desde el inicio de la Cuaresma y ustedes que no ayunaran para nada, ¡alégrense! ¡La mesa está generosamente arreglada! Vengan, sírvanse, todos, no se preocupen, ¡no se avergüencen! ¡Todos ustedes, prueben el banquete de la fe! ¡Disfruten la fiesta del perdón! ¡No lloren por haber pecado una y otra vez: el perdón se levanta del sepulcro!" ¡Feliz Pascua! ¡Bienvenidos todos!
