PASTOR'S CORNER

"Teach us how to pray," the disciples asked Jesus, "as John taught his disciples." What happens when the living God, who made you, and knows what will make your life amazing, gives you a daily way of lifting up your heart to him?

As we pray the prayer that Jesus taught us, he is rewriting our lives, rewriting our hearts, to receive all the blessings he has for us, and launching us toward that eternity of glory he's prepared for us.

Each line of the Our Father reveals what God's plan has been for us, and the goodness he wants to flood our lives with. This is especially true with the central line of the prayer, the heart of our request. Unlike the Greco-Roman literature we're familiar with, where it's the final lines that contain the conclusion of the document, in Jewish writing style it's the middle of the document that contains the core of the message.

And what is the central request of the Lord's Prayer? "Give us this day our daily bread." We turn to our Father for nourishment, but it's not just lunch we're asking for. The term translated as 'daily' from the Greek is epiousios, which could also be translated 'supersubstantial', or from above our earthly realm. We're asking for nourishment for our souls—our whole being!

This resonates with the Jewish people experience: during their 40 years in the desert, God fed them daily with bread from heaven: daily bread is heavenly bread. Later it became known as the bread of angels, which is also what we call our Eucharist today.

We can live lives of total confidence in God. To have been adopted into his family through baptism means that he's responsible for caring for us. Nourish our hearts and beings, Lord God. And as we receive fulfillment and support from him, we can provide encouragement and support to our brothers and sisters.

This is what our readings this Sunday speak about: the heavenly light of our Father shines through us to all those around us. Just as our Father has nourished us, we refresh and lift up our neighbor.

RINCÓN DEL PASTOR

"Enséñanos a orar", pidieron los discípulos a Jesús, "como enseñó Juan a sus discípulos." ¿Qué ocurre cuando el Dios viviente, que te creó y sabe qué hará tu vida increíble, te da una forma diaria de elevar tu corazón a Él?

Mientras rezamos la oración que Jesús nos enseñó, está reescribiendo nuestras vidas, reescribiendo nuestros corazones, para recibir todas las bendiciones que tiene para nosotros y lanzarnos hacia esa eternidad de gloria que nos ha preparado.

Cada línea del Padre Nuestro revela cuál ha sido el plan de Dios para nosotros y la bondad con la que quiere inundar nuestras vidas. Esto es especialmente cierto con la línea central de la oración, el corazón de nuestra petición. A diferencia de la literatura grecorromana que conocemos, donde son las líneas finales las que contienen la conclusión del documento, en el estilo de escritura judía es el centro del documento el que contiene el núcleo del mensaje.

¿Y cuál es la petición central del Padre Nuestro? "Danos hoy nuestro pan de cada día." Recurrimos a nuestro Padre para alimentarnos, pero no solo pedimos la comida. El término traducido como 'cotidiano' del griego es epiousios, que también podría traducirse como 'supersustancial', o desde arriba de nuestro reino terrenal. ¡Estamos pidiendo alimento para nuestras almas—todo nuestro ser!

Esto resuena con la experiencia del pueblo judío: durante sus 40 años en el desierto, Dios les alimentó cada día con pan del cielo: el pan de cada día es pan celestial. Más tarde se conoció como el pan de los ángeles, que es también lo que hoy llamamos a nuestra Eucaristía.

Podemos vivir vidas de total confianza en Dios. Haber sido adoptado por su familia por el bautismo significa que él es responsable de cuidarnos. Nutre nuestros corazones y seres, Señor Dios. Y a medida que recibimos realización y apoyo de Él, podemos brindar ánimo y apoyo a nuestros hermanos y hermanas.

Esto es de lo que hablan nuestras lecturas este domingo: la luz celestial de nuestro Padre brilla a través de nosotros hacia todos los que nos rodean. Así como nuestro Padre nos ha nutrido, nosotros refrescamos y elevamos a nuestro prójimo.

Q Why are those who are preparing for baptism dismissed after the homily and before the creed, the prayer of the faithful, and the Liturgy of the Eucharist?

A Those preparing for baptism are dismissed after the homily and before the profession of faith and universal prayer (also called prayer of the faithful) for an important reason. Those two actions, along with receiving the Eucharist, are the responsibility of the baptized. In professing faith, interceding for the world in the universal prayer, and participating in the great prayer of thanksgiving (the Eucharist), the baptized share in the priestly ministry of Christ. Meanwhile the catechumens reflect on the Scriptures, preparing for their own future role.
