PASTOR'S CORNER

Our responsorial Psalm today we heard last week on Wednesday with the beautiful story of the young Samuel being called by God. Wednesday our first reading was from 1 Samuel 3, where the boy whom Hannah his mother had consecrated to God lives at the sanctuary with the elderly priest Eli. On this eventful night of the account three times God calls the boy, three times the boy jumps up (not quite like the experience of our parents here with their kids, perhaps) and runs to respond to Eli, who finally recognizes the miraculous source of the voice. So Eli instructs the child: "Go to sleep, and if you are called, reply, 'Speak, LORD, for your servant is listening.'"

This is a perfect theme for us as we begin this new year. Our mother the Church selects the Psalm each day at Mass to resonate with the first reading, so we can investigate what Wednesday's passage has in common with our first reading today, since the same Psalm 40 was chosen for both. Our antiphon for the Psalm repeats: "Here am I, Lord, I come to do your will." Here am I, which Samuel had repeated three times to Eli before learning it was actually God who called, is translated from the Hebrew Hineni. Hineni, Here I am, is the ideal response to God. Throughout the Scriptures God calls, whether Abraham, Moses, or today Samuel, and the fullest response is Hineni.

Today our first reading is from Isaiah 49, where God calls, confirming that he has formed his servant from the womb for the plan he has for him. The call that God is revealing in your life today he has prepared for you from the beginning of your story–and from the beginning of the universe! Even though the prophet is writing in the era of the Old Testament prior to the birth of Jesus, God's call to him is universal: "I will make you a light to the nations, that my salvation may reach to the ends of the earth." God's plan for you encompasses more than you anticipate: but will you accept his word to you today?

Our Psalm insists that this is the fundamental thing for us: "In the written scroll it is prescribed for me, to do your will, O my God, is my delight, and your law is within my heart!" The one thing that matters for us is to do the will of God. Another way to say that is that our will wills what God wills. As is famously said about Christianity, it's not enough to know about God or his words, we have to do what he tells us!

Pray again our Psalm today. And let the words of the Psalmist rewrite and reveal the desires of your heart, to live in the will of God.

RINCÓN DEL PASTOR

Nuestro Salmo responsorial de hoy lo escuchamos la semana pasada, miércoles, con la hermosa historia del joven Samuel siendo llamado por Dios. El miércoles nuestra primera lectura fue de 1Samuel 3, donde el niño que Ana, su madre, había consagrado a Dios, vive en el santuario con el anciano sacerdote Eli. En esta noche tan movida del relato, tres veces Dios llama al niño, tres veces el niño se levanta de un salto (quizá no como la experiencia de nuestros padres aquí con sus hijos) y corre a responder a Eli, que por fin reconoce la fuente milagrosa de la voz. Así que Eli instruye al niño: "Duerme, y si te llaman, responde: 'Habla, SEÑOR, porque tu siervo te escucha.'"

Este es un tema perfecto para nosotros al comenzar este nuevo año. Nuestra madre la Iglesia selecciona el Salmo cada día en la Misa para que resuene con la primera lectura, para que podamos investigar qué tiene en común el pasaje del miércoles con nuestra primera lectura de hoy, ya que se eligió el mismo Salmo 40 para ambas. Nuestra antífona para el Salmo repite: "Aquí estoy, Señor, vengo a hacer tu voluntad." Aquí estoy yo, que Samuel había repetido tres veces a Eli antes de saber que en realidad era Dios quien llamaba, está traducido del hebreo Hineni. Hineni, aquí estoy, es la respuesta ideal a Dios. A lo largo de las Escrituras Dios llama, ya sea Abraham, Moisés o hoy a Samuel, y la respuesta más completa es Hineni.

Hoy nuestra primera lectura es de Isaías 49, donde Dios llama, confirmando que ha formado a su siervo desde el vientre para el plan que tiene para él. El llamado que Dios está revelando en tu vida hoy lo ha preparado para ti desde el principio de tu historia, ¡y desde el principio del universo! Aunque el profeta escribe en la era del Antiguo Testamento anterior al nacimiento de Jesús, el llamado de Dios a él es universal: "Os haré luz para las naciones, para que mi salvación llegue hasta los confines de la tierra." El plan de Dios para ti abarca más de lo que esperas: ¿pero aceptarás hoy su palabra para ti?

Nuestro Salmo insiste en que esto es lo fundamental para nosotros: "En el rollo escrito se me prescribe: hacer tu voluntad, oh, Dios mío, es mi deleite, y tu ley está dentro de mi corazón." Lo único que nos importa es hacer la voluntad de Dios. Otra forma de decirlo es que nuestra voluntad quiere lo que Dios quiere. Como se dice famosamente sobre el cristianismo, no basta con conocer a Dios o sus palabras, ¡tenemos que hacer lo que Él nos dice!

Reza de nuevo nuestro Salmo hoy. Y que las palabras del Salmista reescriban y revelen los deseos de tu corazón, para vivir en la voluntad de Dios.

Q How does the assembly contribute to the growth of the candidates?

A Members of the assembly should try to understand the distinction between candidates (those already baptized) and catechumens (those preparing for baptism), respect their baptism, and welcome them. Learning their names and greeting them by name is especially welcoming. As they do for catechumens, assembly members can be attentive during the rites related to them and pray for the candidates during the week. The assembly models for the candidates the simple liturgical gestures that may be new to them (sign of the cross, genuflection, signing before the Gospel, and so forth). Assembly members might also invite the candidates into parish activities of all types and include them in their conversations. A member of the assembly may serve in the role of sponsor.
