PASTOR'S CORNER

Right now many of our news feeds are flooded with the violence raging all over Mexico after the shooting of El Mencho. Many of us have relatives in Jalisco or Michoacán in harm's way as the cartel CJNG shuts down whole regions with arson and attacks.

Meanwhile the United States has just launched major attacks against Iran, in the region already torn by conflicts involving Hezbollah, Houthis, Hamas and Israel. Iran has responded by sending missiles throughout the Middle East including Israel and toward US military bases. Our own soldiers and many civilians are in danger.

Here at Saint Isidore Parish and School, the news from last November hit closer to home when 303 grade school children and 12 teachers were abducted at gunpoint from Saint Mary's Catholic School. While all the students and teachers have since escaped or been released, the terror of these ongoing attacks by Boko Haram and other militant groups is devastating our brothers and sisters in Nigeria.

Stateside, all of us remember the names of Fletcher Merkel and Harper Moyski. They were killed August 27 in Minnesota when an attacker outside their church started shooting in through the windows. 30 other people were also injured at their school Mass that day, bringing lasting pain to Annunciation Parish and School.

What should we do facing so much violence and fear? A natural response looks a lot like the ostrich, pulling away and hiding, thinking if we retreat we will disappear and be safe. But not only is that not true, that is not what we want to teach our children. Our children are painfully learning that the world is a dangerous place, that death faces all of us, but we are the ones responsible for teaching them to face darkness with confidence.

For 2,000 years our message hasn't changed: none of us are meant to face this world on our own, but we are stronger together. Through vision of our true identity, an identity founded in a God whom death cannot hold down, we can raise our kids not to collapse into isolation or anxiety, but to discover courage and the kindness that responds to our fears or pain.

It's true that the landscape of our campus has changed through the years. Our older parishioners remember our grounds without fences, without the wrought iron gates now guarding our school. In recent years we've added security cameras, concrete bollards, and protocol for the front doors of the church to be locked during our daily school Mass. Our teachers carry handheld transceivers to be able to swiftly communicate in emergencies. Daily drop off and pickup are monitored by our staff. These are helpful measures that help increase safety, even as we recognize our goal isn't to encase each student in bubble wrap.

I'm very thankful to our teachers, our principal Susan Burky, our school board CSAC and parent club who ceaselessly strive to ensure that our students receive the support and safeguards they need. Their diligence allows us to form the community our children deserve, where our kids learn that light overcomes darkness, that they can face this world with confidence.

As long as we are on this earth we will face challenges and threats, but we are stronger together.

REFLEXIÓN DEL PASTOR

Ahora mismo, muchos de nuestros canales de noticias están inundados por la violencia que azota todo México tras el tiroteo de El Mencho. Muchos de nosotros tenemos familiares en Jalisco o Michoacán en peligro, ya que el cártel CJNG cierra regiones enteras con incendios y ataques.

Mientras tanto, Estados Unidos acaba de lanzar ataques importantes contra Irán, en una región ya marcada por conflictos que involucran a Hezbolá, hutíes, Hamás e Israel. Irán ha respondido enviando misiles por todo Oriente Medio, incluido Israel, y hacia bases militares estadounidenses. Nuestros propios soldados y muchos civiles están en peligro.

Aquí, en la parroquia y escuela de San Isidro, la noticia del pasado noviembre llegó más cerca de casa cuando 303 niños de primaria y 12 profesores fueron secuestrados a punta de pistola en el colegio católico Saint Mary's. Aunque todos los estudiantes y profesores han escapado o han sido liberados, el terror de estos ataques continuos de Boko Haram y otros grupos militantes está devastando a nuestros hermanos y hermanas en Nigeria. En Estados Unidos, todos recordamos los nombres de Fletcher Merkel y Harper Moyski. Fueron asesinados el 27 de agosto en Minnesota cuando un atacante frente a su iglesia comenzó a disparar a través de las ventanas. Otras 30 personas también resultaron heridas en la misa escolar ese día, causando un dolor duradero a la Parroquia y la Escuela de la Anunciación.

¿Qué deberíamos hacer ante tanta violencia y miedo? Una respuesta natural se parece mucho a la del avestruz, que se aleja y se esconde, pensando que si nos retiramos desapareceremos y estaremos a salvo. Pero no solo no es cierto, no es lo que queremos enseñar a nuestros hijos. Nuestros hijos están aprendiendo dolorosamente que el mundo es un lugar peligroso, que la muerte nos enfrenta a todos, pero somos nosotros quienes les enseñamos a enfrentarse a la oscuridad con confianza.

Durante 2,000 años nuestro mensaje no ha cambiado: ninguno de nosotros está hecho para enfrentar este mundo solo, pero somos más fuertes juntos. A través de la visión de nuestra verdadera identidad, una identidad fundada en un Dios al que la muerte no puede contener, podemos criar a nuestros hijos para que no se derrumben en el aislamiento o la ansiedad, sino para que descubran el valor y la bondad que responden a nuestros miedos o dolor. Es cierto que el panorama de nuestro campus ha cambiado a lo largo de los años. Nuestros feligreses mayores recuerdan nuestros terrenos sin alambrado, sin las rejas de hierro forjado que ahora custodian nuestra escuela. En los últimos años hemos añadido cámaras de seguridad, bolardos de concreto y protocolos para que las puertas principales de la iglesia estén cerradas con llave durante nuestra misa diaria escolar. Nuestros profesores llevan radios portátiles para comunicarse rápidamente en emergencias. El personal supervisa la entrega y recogida diaria. Estas son medidas útiles que ayudan a aumentar la seguridad, aunque reconocemos que Nuestro objetivo no es encerrar a cada estudiante en plástico de burbujas.

Estoy muy agradecido a nuestros profesores, a nuestra directora Susan Burky, a nuestro CSAC de la junta escolar y al club de padres, que se esfuerzan incansablemente para que nuestros alumnos reciban el apoyo y las salvaguardas que necesitan. Su dedicación nos permite formar la comunidad que nuestros hijos merecen, donde aprenden que la luz vence a la oscuridad, que pueden afrontar este mundo con confianza.

Mientras estemos en esta tierra enfrentaremos desafíos y amenazas, pero juntos seremos más fuertes.

St. Vincent de Paul

The St. Isidore Conference of Saint Vincent de Paul is dedicated to serving all families in Sutter County regardless of their religious affiliation, race, or ethnicity. We help those who need assistance with food, rent, utilities, furniture and household goods.

Our food locker provides both fresh and non-perishable food once a month. Over the past year, we have served 1600 families with food, 137 families with rent and utility assistance, 200 with furniture, and 240 with household goods.

We are staffed only by volunteers. Currently we have about 30 members who come on a rotating basis. The various jobs include helping at the food locker (including translation), furniture delivery, home visit teams of 2 to assist with financial aid, and sorting donations. Volunteers come according to the time they are available and their interests. Since the food locker is open 2 hours per day, 3 days a week, any other work is done when needed.

We are very grateful for the generosity of our parishioners and invite you to visit the Food Locker for a tour, for more information, or (hopefully) to volunteer.

The building is open Tues-Thurs from 9:15-11:15, but we would be happy to have you come by appointment. The phone is (530) 671-5154.

3 Month CHALLENGE

Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse,
That there may be food in my house.
Put me to the test, says the LORD of hosts,
And see if I do not open the floodgates of heaven for you,
and pour down upon you blessing without measure!
Malachi 3:10.

Give and gifts will be given to you; a good measure, packed together, shaken down, and overflowing, will be poured into your lap. For the measure with which you measure will in return be measured out to you." Luke 6:38.

In every way I have shown you that by hard work of that sort we must help the weak, and keep in mind the words of the Lord Jesus who himself said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'" Acts 20:35

Q How does a catechumen become elect?

A Catechumens become elect during the Rite of Election or Enrollment of Names. Before moving into this next period, the period of purification and enlightenment, catechumens must have experienced conversion, be familiar with the basic teachings of the faith, and show a spirit of faith and charity (Order of Christian Initiation of Adults, 120). They must intend to receive the sacraments of initiation. During this rite, the bishop publicly declares the Church's decision to call the catechumen to initiation and "elects" them for baptism—based on what God has already accomplished in the catechumen's life.
