Pastor's Corner

Then the God of peace will be with you.

Saint Paul in our second reading today has a confidence we often don't share. He knows a God who is able to transform our experience, to introduce grace that rewrites our story. Meanwhile, we frequently find ourselves in a hostile or difficult environment that looms larger than a God who feels remote.

Our contemporary society with all of its urgency and stress commends us for fitting in by taking seriously what it takes seriously, by being worried about what worries our neighbors. Friendship with God, a closeness that puts this world's worries into context, is not appreciated by our culture, because it seems to diminish its emergencies.

Saint Paul in today's passage to the Philippians invites us into a practice that allows grace from beyond this world to lift us up and sustain us. But are you willing to receive this disruption of your current hierarchy of concerns? God intrudes and disrupts because he has different priorities than our peers; he wants to steal your heart, and he won't leave room for the panics and frettings of here and now.

"Brothers and sisters: Have no anxiety at all, but in everything, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, make your requests known to God. Then the peace of God that surpasses all understanding will guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus." Paul invites us into a daily conversation with God, a daily pouring out of our hearts to him, delighting in the good things God pours out in our lives: gratitude becoming the core of our story. Perhaps what we most need is the courage to look different than the people around us. Can you tolerate being calm when others are anxious? Would you receive peace if God gave it to you?

Reflexión del Pastor

Entonces el Dios de la paz estará contigo.

San Pablo, en nuestra segunda lectura de hoy, tiene una confianza que a menudo no compartimos. Él conoce a un Dios que es capaz de transformar nuestra experiencia, de introducir una gracia que reescribe nuestra historia. Mientras tanto, frecuentemente nos encontramos en un ambiente hostil o difícil que pesa más que un Dios que se siente distante.

Nuestra sociedad contemporánea, con toda su urgencia y estrés, nos felicita por encajar, tomando en serio lo que toma en serio y preocupándonos por lo que preocupa a nuestros vecinos. La amistad con Dios, una cercanía que pone en contexto las preocupaciones de este mundo, no es apreciada por nuestra cultura, porque parece disminuir sus emergencias.

San Pablo, en el pasaje de hoy a Filipenses, nos invita a una práctica que permite que la gracia de más allá de este mundo nos eleve y sostenga. ¿Pero estás dispuesto a aceptar esta ruptura de tu actual jerarquía de preocupaciones? Dios se interrumpe e interrumpe porque tiene prioridades diferentes a nuestras compañeras; quiere robarte el corazón, y no dejará espacio para los pánicos y preocupaciones del aquí y ahora.

"Hermanos y hermanas: No tengan ansiedad alguna, pero en todo, con oración y petición, con acción de gracias, hagan saber sus peticiones a Dios. Entonces la paz de Dios que supera todo entendimiento protegerá sus corazones y mentes en Cristo Jesús." Pablo nos invita a una conversación diaria con Dios, a un derramamiento diario de nuestros corazones hacia él, deleitándose en las cosas buenas que Dios derrama en nuestras vidas: la gratitud se convierte en el núcleo de nuestra historia. Quizá lo que más necesitamos es el valor para vernos diferente a las personas que nos rodean. ¿Puedes tolerar estar tranquilo cuando otros están ansiosos? ¿Recibirías paz si Dios te la diera?

OCIA Corner

Q What is the second stage of Christian initiation, and what happens during this period?

A With the Rite for Entrance into the Catechumenate, the inquirers become catechumens and begin the second period, the period of the catechumenate. They are apprentices learning the Christian way of life, bringing to maturity what has taken root in the previous period. They receive catechesis that is gradual and in tune with the liturgical year, they are introduced to dogmas and precepts, and they are led to a deep sense of the mystery of salvation. They join with the community in witnessing to the faith in service and in spreading the Gospel. This period is rich in prayer, with the catechumens hearing the Word of God at Mass and other celebrations and reflecting on its role in their lives. These experiences call catechumens to align their lives with Jesus Christ and strengthen their desire to be disciples. This period is ordinarily one full year to allow an experience of a full liturgical year during which the mysteries of Christ's life are unfolded.
