TWENTY-SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME | SEPTEMBER 3, 2017
VIGÉSIMO SEGUNDO DOMINGO DEL TIEMPO ORDINARIO | 3 DE SEPTIEMBRE DE 2017

Be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and pleasing and perfect. — Romans 12:2
Dejen que una nueva manera de pensar los transforme internamente, para que sepan distinguir cuál es la voluntad de Dios, es decir, lo que es bueno, lo que le agrada, lo perfecto. — Romanos 12:2

FOLLOWING CHRIST

If you've ever had an unpleasant but somewhat amusing practical joke played on you, then you have some understanding of how Jeremiah feels today when he tells God "good one—you duped me." We can almost see him shaking his head with a bit of a rueful smile, but an angry undertone in his voice. In similar fashion, Peter thinks Jesus is "duping" him when Jesus starts to explain that being Messiah means suffering and dying, and being a follower of the Messiah means taking up a cross and doing the same. Jeremiah tries to deny God's will for him by trying to shut up; Peter—who has just been made the foundation of the church—out and out denies the teaching of Jesus, for which he is named "Satan" today. Fortunately for us, Jeremiah comes to realize that to have the word of God placed in your heart means that it will be futile to try and keep silent, even if it means scorn and derision from those around you. Luckily Peter ultimately returned to the faith he professed in last week's Gospel, and came to understand our need as baptized followers of Christ to follow in his way, even when it means following him to our very death.

TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading — The name of the LORD has become like fire burning in Jeremiah's heart (Jeremiah 20:7-9).

Psalm — My soul is thirsting for you, O Lord my God (Psalm 63).

Second Reading — Be transformed; renew your mind; discern what is good (Romans 12:1-2).

Gospel — Those who lose their lives for Jesus' sake will find them (Matthew 16:21-27).

SIGUIENDO A CRISTO

Si alguna vez te jugaron una broma desagradable y algo risible a la vez, entonces comprenderás cómo Jeremías se siente hoy cuando le dice a Dios "me sedujiste, Señor, y me dejé seducir". Ya lo imaginamos sacudiendo la cabeza con una sonrisa desconsolada, pero con el enojo latente en su voz. De igual manera, Pedro piensa que Jesús lo está "embaucando" cuando éste comienza a explicar que ser el Mesías significa sufrir y morir, y ser seguidor del Mesías significa cargar la cruz y hacer lo mismo. Jeremías trata de negar la voluntad de Dios para él al tratar de permanecer callado; Pedro —quien ha sido hecho cimiento de la Iglesia— totalmente niega la enseñanza de Jesús, por lo que hoy es llamado "Satanás". Por suerte para nosotros, Jeremías se llega a dar cuenta de que tener la Palabra de Dios en el corazón significa que será inútil tratar de permanecer en silencio, aunque ello signifique el desprecio y la burla de los que te rodean. Felizmente Pedro al final volvió a la fe que profesó en el Evangelio de la semana pasada, y llegó a comprender nuestra necesidad, como bautizados seguidores de Cristo, de seguir su camino, aunque signifique seguirlo hasta la muerte.

Twenty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time September 3, 2017
Vigésimo-Segundo Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario- septiembre 3, 2017

Be transformed. What an awesome invitation God extends to us: whatever we're dealing with now, whatever has burdened us in our lives, he intervenes to change completely our experience. "Be transformed," Saint Paul tells us in our second reading today, "by the renewal of your mind."

Few things are as fundamental to Christianity as the call to change. Jesus' first words in his ministry are that same call: "Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand." Our challenge is however, after perhaps some initial adaptations, we settle into a rut of repetition.

For us humans the familiar is much more attractive than the unfamiliar: it becomes almost synonymous with the comfortable versus the uncomfortable. What is known, even if in itself detrimental, is a much safer place for us than venturing out into the unknown of personal change.

This Christian call to change, then, is a call to be uncomfortable. God wants to draw us beyond what we would have chosen for ourselves. Be transformed, Saint Paul insists, by the renewal of your minds.

To enter something new means to leave something old behind. "Do not conform yourself to this age," Saint Paul's words in Romans include. Not only do we have to strip off our own nature, but we discover that this change puts us at odds with our culture as well.

And as difficult to venture into the unknown is, perhaps even tougher is bucking what our family and friends are doing. Few things make us feel more secure than fitting in with those around us, and when Saint Paul, when Jesus, tell us we have to be different from them, to live differently than the people we want to be liked by, this is precarious indeed.

Be transformed. This is a high stakes challenge the Bible calls us to. Jesus recognizes this in our Gospel today when he says, "Whoever wishes to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will find it." Jesus realizes that the call to change is so painful, so profound, that we literally feel like we are dying when we take the plunge he requires of us.

"Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me." We are called to change, but more profoundly, we are called to be with Jesus. This transformation, this renewal, is with him--not something we execute on our own, in some self-help isolation, but walking with him, following him, learning that resurrection, renewal, is possible because we experience it with him.

Be transformed.

Transfórmense. Qué invitación tan maravillosa la que Dios nos hace: no importa lo que nos atormenta en estos instantes, lo que nos agobia en nuestras vidas, El interviene para que podamos cambiar nuestra experiencia por completo. "Transfórmense", nos dice San Pablo en nuestra segunda lectura de hoy, "dejen que una nueva manera de pensar los transforme".

Pocas cosas son fundamentales para el cristianismo como el llamado a cambiar. Las primeras palabras de Jesús en su ministerio son ese mismo llamado: "Arrepentíos, porque el Reino de los Cielos está cerca". Nuestro desafío es, sin embargo, que después de algunos intentos iniciales, nos acomodamos en la rutina de repetición.

Para nosotros los seres humanos lo familiar es mucho más atractivo que lo desconocido: se convierte casi en sinónimo de lo cómodo versus lo incómodo. Lo conocido, aunque nos perjudique, es un lugar mucho más cómodo para nosotros que el arriesgarnos a un cambio personal desconocido.

Este llamado cristiano al cambio, entonces, es un llamado a estar incómodos. Dios quiere llevarnos más allá de lo que elegimos para nosotros mismos. Transfórmense con la constante renovación de sus mentes.

Entrar a algo nuevo significa dejar algo viejo atrás. "No sigan la corriente del mundo en que vivimos" nos dice San Pablo en su carta a los romanos. Este cambio requiere que nos despojemos de nuestra naturaleza y nos pone en lados opuestos a la cultura del día. El aventurar en lo desconocido por más difícil que sea no se compara con la dificultad que encontramos al oponernos a lo que nuestros amigos y familiares hacen.

Transfórmense. Este es un reto de alto desafío al que la Biblia nos llama. Jesús lo reconoce hoy en nuestro Evangelio cuando dice: "El que quiera salvar su vida, la perderá; pero el que pierda su vida por mí, la encontrará". Jesús se da cuenta de que el llamado al cambio es tan doloroso, tan profundo, que literalmente sentimos que estamos muriendo cuando tomamos la inmersión que él requiere de nosotros.

"El que quiera venir conmigo, que renuncie a si mismo, que tome su cruz y me siga." Estamos llamados a cambiar, pero más profundamente, estamos llamados a estar con Jesús. Esta transformación, esta renovación, está con él, no es algo que ejecutamos por nosotros mismos, en un aislamiento de autoayuda, sino caminando con él, siguiéndolo, aprendiendo que la resurrección, la renovación, es posible porque la experimentamos con él.

Ser transformado.
