La Parroquia de San Isidro les da la bienvenida a nuestra comunidad. Esperamos juntos vivir nuestra fe sirviendo a Dios y a nuestros hermanos. Oramos por ustedes y sus familiares.

TWENTY-FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME | SEPTEMBER 24 2017
VIGÉSIMO QUINTO DOMINGO DEL TIEMPO ORDINARIO | 24 DE SEPTIEMBRE DE 2017

Turn to the Lord for mercy; to our God, who is generous in forgiving. — Isaiah 55:7b
[R]egrese al Señor, y él tendrá piedad; a nuestro Dios, que es rico en perdón. — Isaías 55:7b

CALL UPON THE LORD

The very first line of today's first reading summons us to seek the Lord and to call upon God. This sentiment is echoed in the refrain for today's responsorial psalm: "The Lord is near to all who call upon him" (Psalm 145:18a). Saint Paul is the embodiment of someone who constantly sought the Lord. In the excerpt we read today from his letter to the Philippians, we find Saint Paul toward the end of his life, a life he describes as completely consonant with Christ. He writes, "For to me life is Christ" (Philippians 1:21). To find out what it means to live life completely in accord with Christ we need look no further than today's Gospel. There we find that God's love and mercy are immeasurable for all those who seek and call upon the Lord.

TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading — Turn to the LORD, who is generous in forgiving (Isaiah 55:6-9).

Psalm — The Lord is near to all who call upon him (Psalm 145).

Second Reading — Live your lives in a way worthy of the gospel of Christ (Philippians 1:20c-24, 27a).

Gospel — The last will be first, and the first will be last (Matthew 20:1-16a).

Would you believe we have another parable today? And another parable of the Kingdom of Heaven, no less.

If we had any question about what was important to Jesus in the Gospel of Matthew, we should know the answer by now. He's here to introduce a kingdom, and he'd love for us to be on board.

One thing he knows is that the parameters, the context, the scale of everything he's introducing don't match what we're familiar with, so he uses parables to try to get us to see in a new way.

That's why the other day he'll tell us about someone who sells all that he has, who happily gets rid of everything, so that he can gain one pearl.

He'll tell us about someone who can't forgive--so we can discover why forgiveness has to permeate us.

He'll tell us about how he's arriving soon with his angels to repay all according to their conduct, and he really hopes we've gotten the point by then.

Jesus' insistent returning to the theme of the Kingdom of Heaven happens again today, and we can see he needs us to shake off our natural perspective.

Even as toddlers we quickly recognize what's fair and unfair, what the rules are and what happens when we disobey them. Today Jesus wants to flip all that. He wants us to see that the supernatural doesn't work like the natural does. The Divine perspective doesn't see things like the human.

Hopefully we can allow this message to permeate us. Hopefully we can bring forward all that we have, all that we've prioritized, to allow this new perspective to recategorize who we are and what we value.

Jesus is giving us a chance. He's giving us a chance to let the heavenly break into our earthly experience. He knows the close of day comes quickly, and knows we need to acclimate our eyes to the swiftly coming dawn.

CLAMA AL SEÑOR

La primera línea de la lectura de hoy nos ordena buscar al Señor e invocar a Dios. Escuchamos el eco de este sentimiento en el refrán del salmo responsorial del día: "Cerca está el Señor de los que lo invocan" (Salmo 145:18a). San Pablo es la encarnación de alguien que constantemente buscó al Señor. En la cita que leímos hoy de su carta a los filipenses, encontramos a san Pablo hacia el final de su vida, vida que describe como en completa consonancia con Cristo. Escribe: "Porque para mí, la vida es Cristo" (Filipenses 1:21). Para saber lo que significa vivir una vida de completo acuerdo con Cristo basta mirar el Evangelio de hoy. Allí encontramos que el amor y la misericordia de Dios son inconmensurables para todos los que buscan e invocan al Señor.

LECTURAS DE HOY

Primera lectura — Así como el cielo está muy alto por encima de la tierra, así son los caminos y los pensamientos de Dios sobre los nuestros (Isaías 55:6-9).

Salmo — El Señor está cerca de todos los que lo llaman (Salmo 145 [144]).

Segunda lectura — Cristo se magnificará a través de mí, sea que yo viva o que muera (Filipenses 1:20c-24, 27a).

Evangelio — Los últimos serán los primeros y los primeros serán los últimos (Mateo 20:1-16a).

The English translation of the Psalm Responses from Lectionary for Mass © 1969, 1981, 1997, International Commission on English in the Liturgy Corporation. All rights reserved.

¿Pueden creer? tenemos otra parábola hoy. Y otra parábola nada más y nada menos que del Reino de los Cielos.

Si tuviésemos la mínima duda de lo que era importante para Jesús, con el Evangelio de Mateo ya deberíamos de saber. Él está aquí para introducir un reino, y le encantaría que estuviéramos a bordo.

Él sabe que los parámetros, el contexto, la escala de todo lo que está introduciendo no coinciden con lo que nosotros ya conocemos, por lo que utiliza parábolas para tratar de hacernos ver de una nueva manera.

Es por eso que un día nos hablará de alguien que vende todo lo que tiene, que felizmente se deshace de todo, para adquirir una perla.

Él nos hablará también de alguien que no puede perdonar - para que podamos descubrir por qué el perdón tiene que impregnarse en nosotros.

Nos contará también de su llegada acompañado por sus ángeles para pagar todo de acuerdo a la conducta de cada quien, y realmente espera que hayamos entendido para ese entonces.

Jesús nos habla nuevamente del tema del Reino de los Cielos y podemos ver que él necesita que nos despojemos de nuestra perspectiva natural.

Incluso cuando somos niños pequeños rápidamente reconocemos lo que es justo e injusto, cuáles son las reglas y qué sucede cuando las desobedecemos. Hoy Jesús quiere voltear todo eso. Quiere que veamos que lo sobrenatural no funciona como lo natural. La perspectiva divina no ve cosas como lo humano.

Espero que podamos permitir que este mensaje nos impregne. Espero que podamos presentar todo lo que tenemos, todo lo que hemos priorizado, para permitir que esta nueva perspectiva de re categorizar quiénes somos y lo que valoramos.

Jesús nos está dando una oportunidad. Él nos está dando la oportunidad de dejar que el cielo se rompa en nuestra experiencia terrenal. Él sabe que el fin del día viene rápidamente, y sabe que necesitamos aclimatar nuestros ojos al alba que muy pronto se acerca.

The names on these lists will be on for two weeks ONLY

Catechesis of the Good Shepherd

Last week, we began the new year of Catechesis of the Good Shepherd in the atrium. At the end of each session, we gather together at the prayer table to listen to scripture and pray. The prayers of the smallest children are most often praise and thanksgiving, because that is what comes naturally to them. One child, while gazing at the crucifix, whispers "Thank you for You." What a beautiful reminder for us, the simple reminder to be thankful for Jesus, for His love, for His sacrifice, for the gift of Himself.

Catequesis Del Buen Pastor

La semana pasada, comenzamos el nuevo año de la Catequesis del Buen Pastor en el atrio. Al final de cada sesión, nos reunimos en la mesa de oración para escuchar las escrituras y orar. Las oraciones de los niños más pequeños son a menudo elogios y acción de gracias, porque eso es lo que les viene naturalmente. Un niño, mientras contempla el crucifijo, susurro "Gracias por Ti". Qué hermoso recordatorio para nosotros, el simple recordatorio de estar agradecido por Jesús, por su amor, por su sacrificio, por el don de sí mismo.

Hurricane Irma Relief

Cardinal Daniel DiNardo of Galveston-Houston, president of the USCCB has asked the bishops in the United States to take an extraordinary collection the weekend of September 23-24th on behalf of those devastated in parts of the Caribbean and southeastern United States by Hurricane Irma. These funds will be used to support the efforts of Catholic Charities USA and other church partners as they reach out to provide humanitarian aid in the form of water, food, shelter, and medical care. Funds will also contribute to long-term efforts to restore communities who have suffered widespread destruction. Another portion of the funds will allow the USCCB to assist the affected local Churches with pastoral and reconstruction aid in the Caribbean and the United States. Thank you for your generosity.
